TOWN AND COUNTY.

ADAMS OR CANAVAN.

The contest for the Democratic nomination for Governor, between Jewett W. Adams and Matt Canavan, is waxing warm, with both gentlemen confident of success. Adams is almost certain of the Lincoln, White Pine, Nye, Lander, Humboldt and Churchill delegations. Canavan is reported to have Storey solid, and the best of the fight in Elko and Eureka counties. Douglas is evenly divided. Both sides claim Ormsby, Esmeralda and Lyon. Washoe may hold the balance of power. The Washoe delegation may present the name of Senator Schooling, and, having the balance of power, be able to secure the nomination for him, as it is believed the Adams or Canavan men would vote for him if an outsider must be nominated. A large majority of the Democrats of this county prefer Adams to Canavan, but the delegation will probably be divided if the choice must devolve upon one or the other of them.

POLITICAL NEWS.

Carson is to hold her Republican primaries for the election of delegates to the County Convention on September 16th. The County Convention will be held on September 23d.

The Carson Appeal says there is considerable securing in Democratic circles over a bad case of "Jerry-mandering" in Esmeralda county. Somebody has been leading the dice out there.

Four Republican candidates for Judge of Crabsby and Douglas districts, viz: S. H. Wright, C. N. Harris, Tremnor Coffin and D. W. Virgin. The Tribune has heard of but one Democrat J. R. Judge.

The Appeal says: Governor Matt Canavan, the Democratic candidate for Governor, has been in town for the past two days, interviewing the 'boys.' The Governor is none of your cheap politicians, he sets up the wine with an unflinching hand, a kind of generosity that is appreciated by the 'boys.'

The Austin Revueille says: "There is plenty of good gubernatorial timber in either political party, but the most of it appears to grow in the western part of the State. There is a 'dark horse' in the eastern portion of the State, however, a well known and able gentleman, who, if he would consent, would be nominated and elected." The Revueille probably refers to Allen A. Curtis.

There was a Democratic ratification meeting at San Rafael, California, a week ago, and Stoneman was brought out of his retirement and allowed to speak. And this is how he opened on the defenseless crowd:

Fellow-citizens: It is a well known fact in history that great Generals are poor talkers, and I am one of them.

Commenting thereupon, the Post says that "if monumental cheek will elect a man to office, Stoneman will be the next Governor of California." It is to be hoped that in his next speech the General will explain the nature and quality of his "greatness."

The story comes from Waynesburg, Pa., that two young girls, Cora and Marietta Storm, enticed their step-mother, whom they did not like, to a spring house, knocked her senseless with a billet of wood, when one of them stuck her in the heart with a darning needle. The girls are daughters of a Methodist preacher. It does not seem possible that such a horrible story can be true.

Ex-Senator Mitchell will be Oregon's new Senator. He professes to continue the practice of his profession, but his friends are so solicitous that he should take the Senatorship that he has agreed to do so.

Judge Thos. Wells denies that he is a candidate for Lieutenant Governor, but would accept the Republican nomination for State Senator of Esmeralda county.

Our State Asylum.

It must now be evident to all that the erection of a State Asylum in Nevada was a most excellent idea, for already undoubtedly proof has been given that the management of the Stockton Asylum was bad in every sense of the word and the farming out the State insane a great outrage on the people. Not only in point of comfort are the poor demented creatures benefited, but in the short time they have been at Reno more have been discharged in a sane condition than during four years management by Dr. Clark. In this point of view it will be seen that the removal of the insane to Nevada has proven a matter of great economy, and in a year or two when the grounds shall have been cultivated the institution may be nearly self-supporting. There is no doubt, says a medical man, but that the pure air of the Truckee meadows and the pleasant location of the asylum will do much towards the restoration of patients to a sane condition.—[Carson Tribune, 10th.

The Grasshopper Pest.

Grasshoppers are much more plentiful and annoying in the valley than many people imagine. For some weeks past the pests have been a delightful food for those yards where poultry is kept. Down at Mr. Hogan's place the flock of ducks, chickens and other fowls were a constant sight from morning till night. It was rarely that a lucky grasshopper escaped from their clutches, and if one did get away for a time a dozen or so of the fowls would be in full cry. There is some damage being done on the south side of the river through the ravages of the hoppers. One farmer there is prematurely cutting his second crop of alfalfa before it is fully ripened. It is a pity that a remedy for the pests cannot be found.

A Splendid Watch.

The fine watch to be presented to Prof. Ring by his former pupils of the public school was yesterday afternoon delivered over to the committee by Wm. Goeggel, the watchmaker and jeweler. His extra facilities in purchasing enabled Mr. Goeggel to bid the lowest of all competing bidders, and he has furnished a watch of which Mr. Ring may well be proud. It is a four ounce case, 18-carat, E. Howard watch—the very finest American watch manufactured. Mr. Goeggel has adjusted it to both temperature and position, so that it will keep correct time to a hair second.

McClellan Injured.

Word has been received of an accident which happened to H. McClellan, the engineer. He fell from a trestle at New Teosm; W. T., and had a leg, arm and his jaw broken. His wife leaves Reno to-day to join her husband.

Donovan's Death.

The remains of the man found on Monday evening in the Stanislaus river prove to be those of John H. Donovan, who had been missed from Barneyville since the night of April 30th and of whom no trace whatever could be found. He was last seen near the saloon kept by Dr. T. W. Johns, in Stockton. He went there with a man named Don Carlton from Oakdale and was on his way to Modesto. They had broken their buggy about a mile and a half above Dr. Johns' place, and not getting another conveyance Carlton rode on horseback to Oakdale. Donovan then left in the direction of the river. Foul play is suspected. The deceased killed an old man in Jintown years ago, after which he went to Montana, where a second man fell a victim to him. He then went to Nevada, where he killed a third man and got sentenced for life to the State Prison at Carson. Being pardoned out, he came to California, with the reputation of being a "bad man from Carson." Deceased was 39 years and was born in Pensacola, Florida. He was a brother-in-law of Judge A. B. Preston of Jamestown, and at the time he met his death was on the way to visit his mother at Modesto. The coroner's jury found that "the deceased came to his death from causes to them unknown."—S. F. Examiner.

The people of Reno will remember both Donovan and Carlton, who resided here a short time last Winter and Spring. Donovan had just been pardoned out from the State Prison where he had been sentenced for life for the murder of Charley McWilliams of Cherry Creek. Prior to that he had had a narrow escape from imprisonment for complicity in the murder of a restaurant keeper in Pioche. Dan Carlton was also pretty well known about here, and came to this place after being released at the expiration of a five years sentence in San Quentin. He possesses the reputation of being a very dangerous character and parties here who knew both men are of opinion that he administered the final quietus to Donovan for some purpose of other.

Good News for Smokers.

E. Meyer has one of the best stocks of cigars, tobacco, cutlery, pipes, etc., on the road that was ever brought to this town. He expects his goods the last of this week, and will take pleasure in showing them. All of the new and favorite brands of cigars and tobacco are included in his purchases, and smokers will find it to their advantage to call at his store. He can supply the trade with everything in that line cheaper than ever before. Mr. Meyer deals with the best wholesale dealers, and being well acquainted with the business himself, he selected a stock second to no other ever shipped to this State. Call and see for yourself.

A Bonanza in Cattle.

Mr. Lindsay, the well known cattle man of the north was spreading himself in Reno yesterday. He has disposed of over three hundred cattle within the last season of a couple of months and is now enjoying the profits of his shrewdness. Within the last twelve months, beef cattle have advanced nearly fifteen dollars a head, much to the gratification of the cattle men who have seen adverse times and low prices too often within the past two or three years. Luck has taken a change now for the better and if it only continues, inside of a year or two all of the cattle men will be fairly bursting with wealth.

The Chinese Chiffoniers.

Chinese Chiffoniers wander about town from morning till night, picking up all the rags and available refuse they can find. Some of them are the honest scavenger birds that mortal ever set eye on, and could readily pass for scavengers. Still they are beneficial in the respect that they help to keep the town from getting any dirtier; and by gathering up the foul noxious rags and other choice matter, which number of people seem to delight in throwing out on the public streets, and transporting it to Chinatown for their taskmasters, they prevent too great an accumulation of rags and dirt.

Will it Pay?

The Carson Appeal says it is estimated that it will cost each candidate on the State ticket the full amount of his first year's salary, should he be elected, to make the canvass. Besides, the salaries for the next four years have been cut down nearly twenty-five per cent., and a portion of the next term the State officers may be compelled to make scrip for their pay, which they will have to dispose of at a ruinous discount. Will it pay a man who has any other business, to make a fight for a State office.

For District Attorney.

John Bowman announces himself a candidate for District Attorney, subject to the decision of the Republican County Convention. Mr. Bowman is a practitioner of long standing at the Bar, has had experience in the office to which he aspires, and should he again be placed in it, would undoubtedly strive to protect the interests of the people.

Hot For Tahoe.

Last evening Judge Webster left Reno to join his family at Lake Tahoe. The Judge is an inveterate sportsman and lover of nature and enjoys a trip into the mountains as a duck does the water.

Try the Experiment.

The two enterprising individuals who endeavored to blossom into merchants and start in stocking their store by carrying off a belt of cloth from Yankee Dodge's, pleaded guilty yesterday morning before Judge Young and were sentenced to confinement in the county jail for thirty days. They are both strangers and tramps by profession, yet the county will support them in fine style for a month to come, furnishing them with more excellent food and far cooler quarters than many and many a poor hard-working and law-abiding citizen of Reno is now receiving. It looks to many thoughtful observers and taxpayers as though confinement in the county jail is just what the majority of these tramps banker after. An opportunity to eat three solid meals a day and spend the interim between meals in friendly games of cards, or in laying plans for future depredations, is a prize to be coveted. Just now the streets might be cleaned up throughout the whole of Reno and some horribly smelling by-ways and alleys made sweet. To put those strangers who violate the hospitality of the town the moment they arrive here at work on the streets immediately they commit a depredation would at least repay the cost to the county for their board and keeping, and besides would spread a wholesome fear of Reno among the unruly of the tramp population.

A Tedious Journey.

There is a gentleman stopping at Dr. Hutchins' here in Reno who is part way on a curious journey across the Continent. A year ago he started from the East for the Pacific Coast with a carload or two of fine blooded stock, which have since been successfully disposed of. After residing on the coast for a year, and sending his wife and family home by rail, he started two months ago from Mendocino county, Cal., to drive in his buggy clear across to Cambridge, Mass. The buggy ride would not be especially formidable, but he is also taking with him a fine blooded cow of considerable value. It is more than an even bet that while he and his Morgan mare, a splendid animal, get across all right, the cow will not. His light rig will not enable him to carry any extra or heavy baggage, and he has only two days' provisions at a time with him, depending for the sustenance of his animals on the herbage of the country he passes through. It will be a lonesome and perhaps dangerous trip.

A Curious Phenomenon.

Yesterday was one of the most extensively hot days of the season. A terrible occurrence happened on Virginia street about two o'clock, in which an estimable young Carson editor almost instantly lost his life. While passing in front of a large plate glass window forming the front of a prominent store, the rays of the sun forming a reflected focus, struck the young man amidships and instantly melted all the fat from off his bones, leaving his skeleton clean and white on the sidewalk. The bystanders, horrified, instantly sent for the Coroner, who had the section of sidewalk where the corpse lay carefully weighed, segregated and analyzed, and as a result the Reno Academy of Sciences will soon announce to the world its report, showing the exact amount of flesh on a Carson freckle's bones. A surreptitious interview with the committee seemed to point to twelve ounces as the maximum quantity of flesh and fat—the balance was the skeleton.

A Water Famine Threatened.

Every day the bright appearing Truckee shamelessly exposes more and more of her banks, and now a man could with impunity wade across her waters at almost any point. Too ditch companies are already beginning to provide against too low water by raising their dams with their connecting ledges of embankments. The swimmers, too, who daily enjoy the river's refreshing coolness, are able to walk across scot-free where before they had to swim for their lives. All this continued hot weather is making a babbling brook of the raging Truckee. Unless the clerk of the weather away upwards towards Lake Tahoe sends down an extra supply of water and moderates the heat, the town of Reno will be a little short of the useful article with which its whisky is diluted.

A Yankee Son of a Dodge.

George, the son of Yankee Dodge, is a true chip of the old block. The boy was desirous of going to San Francisco to complete a course at the business college. Yet, though Yank gave him a hundred dollars, he himself sewed it up in his vest, and persisted in footing it across the mountains, and is already as far as Sierra City. The youngster has made already the excellent time of 53 miles in two days, which is no slouch traveling for a youngster on foot. From the last letters received the boy is on his way to Downsville and Doubtless will make the distance in Yankee Dodge time. When he arrives in San Francisco George intends to complete the course in the high school and then will most likely enter the business college.

Reminiscences of the Ring.

The lovers of pugilism in Reno noticing the challenge of ex-Alderman Dunne of Brooklyn, to Tag Wilson, the English champion, are recalling the history of the former's famous fight with Bill Davis who a few years ago was a policeman on the force in Virginia City and at present is deputy sheriff in Portland, Oregon. The circumstances of the fight are as follows:

On Feb. 14, 1865, Dunne was matched to fight Bill Davis, a noted pugilist and ex-Recorder of California, who had challenged Dunne to fight for the championship and $1,000. The challenge was accepted and the match made for $2,000 a side and the championship of America. The pugilists fought in Pike county, near Port Jervis, 90 miles from New York, on May 16, 1865.

Dunne was seconded by Barney Aaron and Dooney Harris, while Kit Burns of New York and Charley Huff at present of Reno, seconded Davis. Dunne trained at Mark (Topsy) Maguire's at McComb's Dam, while Davis trained at Philadelphia.

Dunne appeared in the ring in the pink of condition and weighed 145 lbs. Davis was not as well trained as he might have been and he tipped the beam at 168 lbs. It was a hard matter for the pugilists to decide upon a referee but finally two were selected, Joe Coburn for Dunne and Timothy Hurley for Davis. The fight was a desperate one. Dunne showed great improvement since he had met Elliott and outfought Davis from the start. Davis pluckily stood up and fought like a Trojan until he was so badly punished that Dunne's friends begged of Davis' seconds not to let him fight any longer. Davis insisted on fighting until forty-three rounds had been fought in one hour and six minutes, when he was terribly beaten and his backer refused to let him fight any longer.

Dunne was hailed the champion of America and winner of $2,000.

It will be remembered that Davis shook the dust of the Comstock from his feet after, by a close scratch, he escaped being convicted for the killing of young Ash, brother of Gus Ash, late U. S. Marshal of Nevada.

Dr. Scott's Appointment.

The Ovid Independent (Seneca Co., N. Y.), of August 2d contains the annexed communication:

Rev. Winfield Scott, D. D., has been appointed by the President as Chaplain of the U. S. Army. Dr. Scott is a graduate of the Rochester university and theological seminary, and was preaching in Syracuse when the war broke out. In 1862 his patriotism induced him to raise a company for the 126th New York Volunteers, and he went as its Captain. He was wounded five times while in the service of his country, and won the sobriquet of "the fighting parson." He was one of the bravest of the gallant 126th regiment, and commanded it in many of the severest battles in which he was engaged. He was finally very severely wounded while leading a charge at Spotsylvania Court House, and after months of suffering was mustered out of service on account of disability resulting from his wounds. He has been a prominent preacher in the west since the war, and had a successful pastorate in Leavenworth, Kansas, where he built a church that was a credit to the city, costing $50,000. During the seven years he was pastor he donated to the church his entire salary. He also had charges in Denver, Col., San Francisco, and other places.

Capt. Scott is an eloquent and attractive speaker, and by his talents and genial ways has drawn about him a large circle wherever he has become acquainted. He is a prominent member of the G. A. R. and has always been popular with soldiers. He is a vigorous thinker, with remarkable tact, and has pre-eminent qualifications for the position to which he has been appointed. Capt. S. was brought up in Seneca county, and both of his grandparents were captains in the war of 1812. His many friends will congratulate him on this appointment, and President Arthur has certainly made a most excellent selection.

A Noseastropac.

A terrible noseastropac occurred yesterday afternoon, and one that astounded the whole county. One of the United States employes in the Surveyor General's office here in Reno went up the river to take his yearly bath, and in diving from the spring board the bottom of the river unfortunately gave way and raked off a section of his nose. This unparalleled (an)outrage has rendered the whole survey office indignant.

Rashly Sold.

R. H. Kinney's ranch, formerly known as the Chase & Holbrook place, was sold at Sheriff's sale yesterday for $5,000 to the plaintiff in the action for foreclosure of a mortgage, who were the executors of the estate of John Johnson, deceased.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, AND CONSUMPTION.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one, but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it as long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sick-ness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not keep it yon for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.
